Supplement of

Evaluation of the ability of the Chinese stalagmite $\delta^{18}O$ to record the variation in atmospheric circulation during the second half of the 20th century

S. Nan et al.

Correspondence to: S. Nan (nansl@cams.cma.gov.cn) and M. Tan (taming@mail.iggcas.ac.cn)
Fig. S1. A comparison among the time series of the annual temperature and precipitation for Beijing, Wudu and Yichang, which are the meteorological sites nearest to the series S312, WX42B and HS4, respectively.